Columbus Pastor, Placed in Charlotte Jail, Says Charges Are Result of Persecution.

HEARING IS SET FOR NEXT MONDAY

rs. Landridge Expected as Witness; Minister's Sanity May Figure in Trial, Is Hint.

Charlotte, N. C., September 30.—(AP) declaring that "a great wrong has been done me by persons seeking to destroy a faithful and respected minister, 35 years in the ministry," the Rev. Willis T. Jordan, of Columbus, Ga., arrived here today in custody of deputy sheriff from Grand Rapids, Mich., to await trial on charges of insanity.

Immediately upon arrival he was placed in Mecklenburg county jail under $10,000 bond. Solicitor John G. Carpenter said tonight that preliminary hearing for the minister will be held next Monday. No effort has been made, it is understood, to make bond.

While the solicitor made no definite comment, he intimated that the question of Jordan's sanity likely will play a large part in the hearing.

A plea involving the mental condition of the accused was intimated when Jordan, before the attorney appeared, suggested that he would possibly be given a thorough examination to determine, he said, "the condition of my nerves." Jordan complained of fatigue, but with the exception of a slightly wan and drawn appearance, gave no physical indications of weakness.

Only One "True Wife."

With testimony of at least one, and possibly two living wives, booming his forthcoming hearing and trial, Jordan tonight stubbornly reiterated that "I have only one true wife," and she is Mrs. V. V. Jordan, of Windy Gulf, W. Va.

Referring to the Mrs. Jordan in Windy Gulf, Jordan said: "I think of her often. Every few days I write long letters to her. The last letter I sent her was mailed from Cincinnati, while en route to Charlotte. We have a son who is 16. He is with his mother. They live with her brother, also a minister."

Reiterating that he had knowingly committed no wrong, Jordan steadfastly asserted that "If I married any of the women who claim me for a husband, I have no knowledge or remembrance of the acts." He declared himself the victim of periodic attacks of amnesia.

Jordan's own story of his mysterious movements during the eastern part of the United States during the past

Teachers' Salary Raise Reaffirmed By School Board

Increase Allowed After Formal Protest of Citizens' Advisory Committee Because of Expense.

NEW SCALE HIKES BUDGET $35,000

City Attorney Rules Citizens' Body Has No Legal Standing; Agreement Is Moral One.

Automatic salary increases for employees of the Atlanta school department were affirmed by the Atlanta board of education Friday afternoon by a vote of seven to two. Three members of the board were absent. Increases aggregating about $35,000 between now and January 1 thus will be allowed over the formal protest of the citizens' advisory committee, supervising school expenditures for this year under an agreement between the board and a group of citizens who last fall endorsed a note for $500,000 to relieve a financial crisis in the board and thus prevent actual closing of schools.

Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, announced that in accordance with the vote of the board, checks retroactive as of September 1 will be issued from school headquarters from 10 until 1 o'clock today.

Decision of the board Friday afternoon in the special called session, definitely widened a breach between the citizens' advisory body and the board, and altogether members of the committee Friday night declined to make a statement, the intimation was that a session will be called to decide just what action the committee should take.

City Attorney James L. Mayson has ruled the advisory committee has no legal standing and that the agreement between the board of education and it is purely a moral one. City Comptroller B. Graham West stated Friday night that he will honor the pay roll voucher today in accordance with that ruling.

Vote on retention of the salary scale stood: West, Terrell, Gaines, Powell, Maddox and Slate for, and Eubanks and Warren against.

Action of the board was based on a report that a program of rigid economy in administration and consolidation of classes have effected large savings, and that these could be applied to salary accounts, thus obviating the necessity of abandoning the salary scale.

An effort on the part of Commissioner William C. Slate, of the second ward, to issue salary checks on the old salary basis, investigate the matter more thoroughly and confer with the advisory committee with a view of preventing open disagreement, failed when it did not receive a second.

Therrell Plan Adopted. In voting on the measure, the board adopted a proposal of D. M. Therrell, which was seconded by Mrs. Paul West.

Mr. Therrell hit Mr. Hirsch's estimates in which it was pointed out that in the opinion of the advisory committee the board would not place the salaries into effect without running a deficit. Mr. Therrell's motion provides that if a deficit is imminent, salaries of all employees of the department will be slashed in December to prevent any overdraft.

Those favoring retention of the salary scale, pointed out that satisfied teachers are necessary to the conduct of a good school system, that the board has by a rigid policy of economy saved thousands of dollars, that teachers are entitled to the increase which was guaranteed to them in good faith by the board last year, and that the board of education will be "keeping faith with the advisory committee if it completes the year without a financial deficit."

Dr. R. M. Eubanks, president of the board, left the chair to fight the move to override the citizens' committee, which he assailed on the Insurance Men Say Property Damage Will Total $50,000,000 — Hospitals Treat 300 Victims.

BY KENNETH G. CRAWFORD. St. Louis, September 30.—(United News.)—Civil authorities, the military and the Red Cross combined forces tonight to bring relief to St. Louis' suffering thousands who were rendered homeless by Thursday's devastating five-mile storm.

While thousands of dollars were being poured into a relief fund to care for the destitute, the hundreds of injured and the bereaved, rescue workers continued to dig through buildings which were reduced to debris by the tornado.

The death toll has mounted to 87, with strong indications that it will rise above 100. Eighteen persons tonight still were missing, while many of the injured are in a critical condition. More than 500 persons received medical treatment for their injuries, while additional hundreds suffered minor injuries which did not require medical attention.

The exact number of injured never will be known as many received treatment without going to hospitals, or reporting to the police. Property damage is variously estimated between $10,000,000 and $100,000,000. Charles M. Talbert, vice president of the Standard Underwriters' agency, estimated the damage at $50,000,000.

Hundreds Homeless. Hundreds of homeless families spent last night—a night of terror for them—in the national guard armory and other improvised quarters, and were fed today from four Red Cross field kitchens.

Soldiers of the 139th infantry, National guard, and American Legion men patrolled streets west of Grand boulevard. All the city's 1,500 police were on duty, with orders of "shoot to kill" looters.

One thousand regular troops from Jefferson Barracks, Mo., were ordered by the war department to cooperate in the emergency. Major General William Lassiter, commanding the sixth corps area, left Chicago and took

COULDN'T SHAKE TWO OF THEM, HE SAYS. Eloping With Three Girls

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.) Chicago, September 30.—Vito de Bouver, 16, a sleek-haired Lothario, was so popular that three girls eloped with him at the same time. Because two of them could not be shaken off until de Bouver could marry the third, all were arrested when they were found asleep in a stolen car at Freeport, Ill.

The three girls, Loretta and Aileen Sturges, 15 and 16, and Vilma Neff, 14, were students at Northbrook school. "I wanted to marry Vito," said Aileen, "but we could not shake off the other girls."

"Huh! I liked him myself and we intended to get married," pouted Loretta.

"Yes, but I am the only he really wanted to marry," protested Vilma. Parents of the four children called Stabbed in the back Friday night by an unknown negro, who took offense when his foot was accidentally stepped on, Raymond Pierce, 17, 400 South Pryor street, was carried to Grady hospital and treated for a wound one and one-half inches deep, which did not penetrate to the bone and was not considered dangerous by doctors.

Pierce was walking along South Pryor street according to Call Officers J. A. Brown and G. N. Ellis, who investigated the case, when his foot accidentally struck the foot of a negro. The negro cursed Pierce, according to the report, but Pierce told the negro to move on, that the blow had not hurt the negro's foot. The negro then drew a knife and stabbed Pierce, officers said.

JACKSON THOUGHT GONE TO CHICAGO

A definite clue to the whereabouts of Ezra E. Jackson, East Point garage man who disappeared Monday afternoon, has been obtained by friends of Jackson's who are investigating the case. It was learned Friday, Jackson is reported to have gone to Chicago.

After a severe grilling late Thursday night, "Choc" Smith, negro, former employee of Jackson's garage, admitted to J. D. Bazemore, jailer at Fulton Tower, that he carried Jackson to Rockmart, Ga., on Tuesday morning, and that Jackson left for Chicago of his own free will.

Smith's story was certified by communication with Rockmart, and investigation of the disappearance will be dropped, Mr. Bazemore said. It was at first believed that Jackson had met with foul play, as he was known to have had approximately $200 on his person when last seen.

TENNESSEE WOMEN MOVE TO SUPPRESS BEAUTY CONTESTS

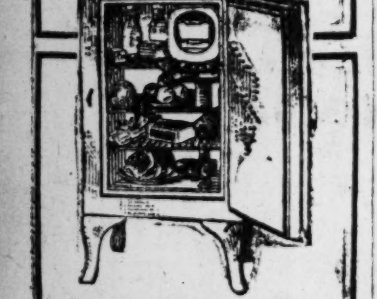

Nashville, Tenn., September 30.—(AP)—The State Federation of Women's Clubs, meeting here today, passed a resolution for the suppression of bathing beauty contests, terming such exhibitions as having "devastating effects" under the misplaced title of "artistic displays."

Mrs. Flora Myers Gilentine, of Murfreesboro, was endorsed as candidate for president of the national federation. Mrs. Gilentine, a former president of the Tennessee federation, has received national recognition for work done in connection with women's clubs. She was formerly state regent of the Tennessee Daughters of the American Revolution and was also vice president-general from Tennessee of the National Daughters of the American Revolution.

WIDOW IN ALABAMA DEATH MYSTERY FREED

Montgomery, Ala., September 30.—(AP)—After a further search of the scene where the body of Sherman Floyd was found Monday near the Bullock county line failed to reveal evidence connecting his widow with the crime, she was released from the county jail here today. Mrs. Floyd was arrested Wednesday on a warrant sworn out by a cousin of the deceased man.

Sheriff Seagin's report following the investigation leads to the conclusion that the man, whose nude body was discovered late Monday afternoon, came to his death as a result of self-inflicted injuries in a maniacal attack upon a wire fence. Bloodstained fragments of cloth, and tufts of hair found on the barbed wire led to the conclusion.

Old Car Parade To Provide Contrast Between Present and Old Motor Ages

Another veteran still in harness which will appear in the "old car" parade of The Constitution Monday. This car is a 1915 Overland, owned and still operated by G. C. Darby, of Atlanta.

This is the motor age. Its shining examples of power and perfection grace every highway and byway of the land.

But Atlanta, on Monday, will see a spectacular contrast. The ancient relics of the past, with a rattling bank, a puff and wheeze, will roll again.

At 11:30 o'clock The Constitution's "old car" parade is scheduled to get away from a Peachtree and North avenue starting point. The route is on Peachtree and Whitehall to Trinity avenue. All whose pistons are

Parents Liable For Child's Cycle Injuries, Ruling

Parents are legally liable for injuries inflicted upon pedestrians by children who ride their velocipedes and other vehicles on the sidewalks, the Georgia court of appeals held Friday in reversing a decision of the Richmond county superior court, which dismissed a $7,500 damage suit growing out of such a case.

The action was brought by Mrs. Sophie Davis, 76-year-old Augusta physician, against 5-year-old Tony Cavallas and his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Cavallas. The former charged she was knocked down on Broad street in Augusta by the child's velocipede while he was riding it at night without lights and that she suffered a broken hip, knee and leg.

The suit was dismissed in Richmond superior court on a demurrer, but the appellate court held that:

"Allegations to the effect that parents furnished a velocipede to a child and knowingly permitted him to ride upon the sidewalk and that the child, on account of his tender age, was irresponsible, incompetent and unqualified to use the velocipede with such care and diligence as not to injure plaintiff, were equivalent to alleging that the parents were negligent."

TWO MEN POST BOND IN GRIFFIN SLAYING

Griffin, Ga., September 30.—(Special.)—L. E. Huffman and John Fold, charged with the killing of George Milner, a negro, here have been released on $2,000 bond, which was set by Judge Searcy.

Defense witnesses testified at the preliminary hearing that Milner was armed and that Huffman and Fold shot him in self-defense. State witnesses contend that the negro was not armed.

The men will face trial at the next term of superior court.

LITTLE HOPE IS HELD FOR VICTIM OF FALL

Mrs. L. G. Move, 67, of 246 Trinity avenue, who fell from an upstairs window of her home Thursday night, suffering a possible spinal fracture, a broken leg and a probable fractured skull, Friday night was given little hope of recovery by Grady hospital attaches.

It is believed that Mrs. Move, who is said to be a sufferer from insomnia, went to an open window and lost her balance.

Josie and Jean Anglin were new arrivals at Grady hospital Friday. Josie tipped the scales at 6-12 pounds while Jean weighed in at seven pounds and two ounces. They are the infant daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Anglin, of 235 Carroll street, and are two of six children.

RULING IS ASKED ON WILL IN WHICH ROMAN GETS $10,000

New York, September 30.—(Special.)—The Chemical National bank, as executor and trustee, sued in supreme court here today for a judicial interpretation of the will of Roger Richardson Hill, of New York and Palm Beach, disposing of an estate of more than $600,000.

After various specific bequests, including $10,000 and an annuity to a niece, Doris J. Holcomb, of Rome, Ga., Mr. Hill directed the income from one-fourth of the residue be given to two other nieces provided neither married a Catholic or becomes a Catholic communicant.

From then on, however, the will is a puzzle, attorneys admitted.

Mr. Hill died January 1 at El Paso, Texas.

Birthday Letters Of Dead Father Received by Lad

Vineland, N. J., September 30.—(United News.)—Clouds today dimmed the sun on Dickie Stephenson's seventh birthday.

Dickie has a dog—a bulldog—and his name is Rex. Dickie and Rex are pals. But yesterday Dickie's mother concluded that the boy and his buddy could no longer sleep in the same bed.

That was the first dark spot on the horizon. The next one was the fact that Dickie had not received the third of a series of letters written to him by his father, who died in 1925, one to be delivered each year until Dickie is 21.

Dickie's mother, a trained nurse, explained that undoubtedly the letter had been held up in the mail. Her son missed the yearly message from his dead father, she said, and the ultimatum that Rex must leave forth sleep by himself combined to make his birthday a day of gloom. He was somewhat heartened, however, by his mother's promise that they would spend the week-end at Atlantic City and he began to see the sunshine.

So, after all, Dickie will have the best kind of a birthday celebration, for not every boy of 7—dog or no dog—can go to this famous resort just to mark his seventh year.

Nobody yet knows what is in the letters that both Dickie and Mrs. Stephenson cherish so highly. Once each year the Vineland Trust company mails one to Dickie, acting on instructions of Dickie's father, a lawyer of modest income, who wrote and left one letter for every year until his son became 21.

Lord Chesterton wrote to his son a number of letters that have become the world's model for deportment. He wrote his son as man to man.

Stephenson, senior, writes to Dickie as father to son.

"They are sacred conversations," Mrs. Stephenson said in refusing to make their contents known. After they have been read they go into a vault. When Dickie is of age, he can make them public if he chooses, but until then their contents are sealed in Dickie's heart—and mine."

$250 REWARD OFFERED FOR ALABAMA SLAYER

Montgomery, Ala., September 30.—(AP)—Governor Bibb Graves today authorized the offering of $250 reward for the arrest and conviction of the person who murdered Mrs. Mary Treese and set fire to her body near her home in Walker county September 15. Relatives of the dead woman insist that a negro committed the crime.

Mrs. Treese was found by her husband near the sage brush fire, into which it is claimed the negro threw her after striking her several blows about the head. It is also charged that the husband halted his wife when she attempted to tell the physician how the crime was committed, and died without revealing the true story.

Aber Harmless Paranoiac, Vet Physician Says

Chillicothe, Ohio, September 30.—(AP)—Lawrence Aber, arrested at Marietta, Ga., for vagrancy, who termed himself a "criminally insane, undesirable alien" and is seeking deportation to England, in reality is a constitutional psychopath with a paranoid personality, by nature opposed to the laws and customs of society, but harmless, says Dr. John Baird, of the Veterans Bureau hospital here.

A veteran of the American army and navy, and of the Canadian expeditionary force, Aber, since the world war, has escaped from every veterans' bureau hospital for mental diseases in the United States, Blair said. After each escape it was his practice to spend what money he had been able to save up from his government compensation, often taking trips to Mexico and the Philippines, and going even to Peru and other foreign countries, and then, his funds exhausted, to give himself up voluntarily and return to some government institution.

Government records disclose, Blair said, that on one trip to the Philippines, he was married and now has a daughter in an eastern school.

His last place of confinement was the veterans' hospital here, where he remained for two months and, officials say, conducted himself well and did good work in the shoe shop where he was employed. At the end of the two months, however, he took "French leave" once more and had not been heard from since until news of his reported arrest in Georgia.

GOV. FIELDS CHARGES I.C.C. WITH FAVORITISM

Frankfort, Ky., September 30.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission, by suspending the 20 per cent reduction in cargo coal rates proposed by carriers serving the coal fields of Kentucky, West Virginia, Virginia and Tennessee, is striving to extend greater freight rate advantages to favored shippers, Governor W. J. Fields said in a letter to governors of five northwestern states today.

The commission was created by congress "for the purpose of protecting the consumers of the nation," Governor Fields said. "Rebating" was outlawed by congress—but rebating in its most malignant form was not more reprehensible than the action of a governmental tribunal that seeks to give freight rate advantages to one district in order to exclude the products of another district from the markets, thereby leaving the consumer at the mercy of the favored district."

The letter was addressed to Governors Green, of Michigan; Zimmerman, of Wisconsin; Christianson, of Minnesota; and Bulow, of South Dakota. It stated that consumers in those states would suffer a loss of from five to six million dollars annually by the reduced rates being ordered cancelled, and requested the states to join with the southern coal states in opposing the cancellation before the commission.

The railroads ordered a 20 per cent reduction after the Interstate Commerce Commission had granted the Pennsylvania fields a similar differential on cargo coal. The commission suspended the lower rates pending a hearing.

MEMBERS OF LEGION VISIT SWITZERLAND

Lucerne, Switzerland, September 30.—(United News.)—Two hundred and fifty members of the American Legion, with their wives and families, were welcomed here today by government officials and were tendered a banquet tonight.

"Completely surrounded in the great war as you were," said retiring Legion Commander Howard P. Sayre in responding to welcoming speeches—"brought on the west by France, on the north by Germany, on the east by Austria and Italy, four nations locked in struggle, Switzerland emerged from those years of catastrophe one of the few unwarred beauty spots of Europe."

"Standing as we are now, apart from and above those fields of battle, we are able to look back from the viewpoint of a neutral friend of all, and to feel sympathy for all."

ROOSEVELT HITS SMITH IN SPEECH

Rochester, N. Y., September 30.—(AP)—For the first time in history "the shadow of Tammany lies athwart the white house" in the candidacy of Governor Alfred E. Smith for the presidency, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt declared today in his keynote address to the republican state convention.

He urged New York republicans to take the lead in a campaign to "dispel" that shadow asserting there was no such thing as "the new Tammany."

With more than inference, Colonel Roosevelt cited Governor Smith—"the leader of the democratic party in this state (who) aspires to be the nominee of that party for the presidency"—as the ally of the "same old" Tammany.

Judge Smith by Company.

"A man must be judged by the company he keeps," declared the temporary chairman, "and though we do not question the personal integrity of Governor Smith, he is sponsored and backed by Tammany Hall. Next to being corrupt yourself is tolerating it in your supporters. Tammany has lived too long by corruption to reform."

References to President Coolidge's administration brought the convention to its feet in applause.

The platform, adopted unanimously, made no reference to prohibition. Attacks on Smith fiscal policies, his opposition to four-year terms for governors and alleged delay in cleaning up county milk scandals, involving the health department, were the principal planks.

By a vote of 992 to 75, the convention concurred in the democratic nomination of Judge John P. O'Brien for the state court of appeals. At Albany yesterday Judge O'Brien received the democratic nomination.

COLLEGE PARK WOMAN INJURED IN COLLISION

Mrs. Clara Maddox, College Park was severely shaken up, bruised and cut Friday afternoon in a collision between the coupe she was driving and the automobile driven by E. F. Cunningham, Carlton apartments.

The accident occurred at the corner of Peachtree and Fifteenth streets and at the request of both parties no cases were made by Motorcycle Officer D. L. Taylor, who investigated.

Auto Carrying Dynamite Hits Bump; 2 Killed

Watertown, N. Y., September 30.—(United News.)—David Rasback, 34, and Charles Hatley, 30, were blown to bits today when their automobile, carrying 100 pounds of dynamite, struck a bump in the road.

Investigators said the wrecked car had been hurled almost 100 feet from the road by the explosion of its cargo.

BUILDING TRADES SPLIT IS HEALED IN LABOR RANKS

Los Angeles, September 30.—(AP)—The United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, with a membership of 450,000, today rejoined the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor, composing a jurisdictional controversy started 11 years ago.

The peace pact came during pre-convention activities of the American Federation of Labor, which will hold its annual meetings here next week.

In 1922 the row between the carpenters and joiners and other building crafts reached the stage where the carpenters and joiners were asked to withdraw from the building trades department. Membership in the federation was retained.

"We are now again a 100 per cent family," said William J. McSorley, president of the building trades department. "The carpenters and the United Mine Workers comprise two of the largest units of the federation."

KING SNAKE DEVOURS COPPERHEAD ENEMY

Memphis, Tenn., September 30.—(AP)—A three-foot king snake that recently refused to fight a rattler at a public exhibition advertised as a "battle for the snake championship of the world" today removed any blot that might have been charged against its courage by killing and then eating a copperhead snake at the Memphis zoo.

The copperhead was only three inches shorter than its antagonist, but the latter ate every poisonous inch of it and appeared hale and hearty tonight.

It required two hours for the king snake to rout its enemy, and the feast required two hours more, Ernest Godwin, zoo superintendent, said.

COOLIDGE RECEIVES DAILY FLOOD REPORTS

Washington, September 30.—(AP)—President Coolidge is receiving almost daily reports from the survey of the Mississippi river flood situation but feels that it is still too early to estimate what the total cost of reconstruction will be.

From army engineers the president has received the information that the work of closing up levees is going ahead with reasonable speed. He conferred late today with Major General J. W. Johnston, chief of the army engineers, and received assurances from him that there would be as little delay in this work as possible.

Coolidge feels that no one can make an accurate estimate of flood control costs until definite plans have been brought forward. With many varying proposals under consideration, it was said at the white house, it would be idle to make any estimates in anticipation of the report of the board of engineers.

LIFE TERM GIVEN
EVANS AT JASPER

Jasper, Ga., September 30.—(Special.)—The jury in the case of Hoyt Evans, tried in superior court here on the charge of murder in connection with the slaying on September 17 of W. L. Cape, Pickens county policeman, early today returned a verdict of guilty with recommendation of mercy. The verdict was returned at 1:30 o'clock this morning and Judge John S. Wood sentenced Evans to imprisonment for life in the penitentiary.

The defendant received the verdict and sentence without show of emotion. Meredith & James, attorneys for Evans, announced that motion for a new trial would be filed.

C. L. Smith, Carter Jones and Carter Wilson, also under indictment on the same charge, are expected to go on trial next Monday, it being probable that Smith's trial will be held first, it is stated.

Hoyt Evans, mother, his wife and 2-year-old baby were present during the trial and sentence, as was also Mrs. W. L. Cape, widow of the slain officer.

Policeman Cape, known throughout north Georgia as being a fearless officer and an especial foe of moonshiners and liquor runners, was shot to death on Saturday afternoon, September 17, while probing alleged moonshining activities in the neighborhood where the men held live. L. S. dismembered body was found on the following Monday morning by a hunter near Adairville, 40 miles from the scene of the crime.

Lindsey Evans, brother of Hoyt, who it is alleged fired the shots that killed the officer, was also indicted on a murder charge, but he has not been apprehended.

Solicitor George D. Anderson was assisted in the prosecution by ex-Congressman W. M. Howard, of Augusta; Roscoe Pickett and Howard Tate, of Jasper.

The trial of Evans opened Wednesday, the case going to the jury late Thursday night. The jury deliberated more than four hours.

*Singin' the song of Hope and Home,
Here's Georgia!
Fields light-white with fleecy foam,

It tells the gold in the mines "Goodbye,"
And hides the hills from the mornin' sky,
Here's Georgia!*

The Horn o' Plenty's the horn we blow

Slams Saloons and By Louise Dooly

Is the skimpy fashion in women's clothes today really as sensible as it is cracked up to be?

Health and comfort, so we have been told endlessly, lie in the lightness of the weight, the looseness in the lines, of women's apparel; comfort and health and the beauty that comes of freedom. As familiar it all sounds as "your best friends won't tell you this!"

But what's this? Dissenting whispers? Or even voices that shout aloud of a freedom that is making slaves of women, and grotesque slaves at that.

It is started with the doctors. "Civilization," they reminded the women, "has immunized people to clothes. Health as a convention, too, demanded them. Defy convention—get rid of the clothes—and your unconventionality can easily get you pneumonia. Starve yourself to maintain straight lines, and risk your lungs or your nerves."

Then the painters of the female form divine began to balk at trying to make angles look like curves.

The newest voice is a woman's, and she is very new; so modern that she shouts aloud her "frankness."

"Discomfort and indecency," she writes in a current magazine, "might be forgiven if they were made for beauty. Want of beauty is the unpardonable sin." (And that, if you please, in the North American Review.)

And so, even modern paganism admits that even paganism can go too far.

THE REVELATION of the human form today is without limit," this writer remarks, "and the human form in most women cannot stand the ordeal. . . . It is when I see women of middle age in evening dress, cropped hair, skirts receding further above their knees, faces wearing their make-up like a mask—all the old dignity, the old grace, the old elegance thrown to the winds—that I despair of their sense of humor even more than their sense of beauty."

"Put a large woman—and America runs today to the full blown type—into the daintiest one-piece gown, and no catonist 'could have conceived a crueler caricature."

"The modern fashion is anything but the menace to morals it is thought to be in some quarters. In mystery there may be temptation, not in such a wholesale exposure of the undesirable."

MARGOT ASQUITH, in her last book, "Lay Sermons," is no less hard on her sex.

"Women," she says, "with neither lacks nor tops to their heads, and faces as large as hams, appear at the king's drawing room with the nudge of their necks blue from shaving; and either the brains or the headgear have undergone a tremendous change in the feminine world, but I cannot buy a hat that will cover the top of my head."

AND THEN—"The smartest woman I know," I heard another woman say recently, "has lived through the vogue of bobbed hair and Spanish shawls without acquiring either, although nothing but common sense prevented her having 'both."

"She says she has seen just as many frumps with badly bobbed hair as with wads of it, and too many owners of Spanish shawls who wear them like scrub women instead of semitons."

was in charge and made a short talk on the aims of the department this year and the duties to be expected of each officer. Officers were elected as follows: Miss Eloise Martin, president; Miss Sarah Hammond, vice president; Miss Frances Winbush, secretary; Miss Martha Wilson, treasurer; and Miss Edna Lockhart, publicity agent.

A name was then sought, one which would show the close relation of this department to the day school and which would give the girls the feeling of a congenial club. Napeless was chosen and so the boarding department is to be called the Napeless club henceforth.

FACTIONS LINED UP FOR TIME HEARING

The proposal to change Atlanta's time from the present Central Standard time to Eastern Standard time, embodied in a petition presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington Thursday, found quick support Friday among commercial and industrial organization executives.

Those who plan to fight any attempt to change the time found ready leadership among a number of the city councilmen, who voiced strong denunciations against the petition, which was filed by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, the Atlanta Clearing House association, the Atlanta Forward commission and the Traffic club of Atlanta.

While proponents of the change seemed to have gained an advantage by striking hard in their first move, the opposition wasted little time in making their opening assault on those who are seeking the change.

A clear-cut line is fully expected to separate the two groups when the public hearing to be held within 30 days, before the Interstate Commerce Commission opens, it was predicted Friday.

The petition met its first official opposition with a resolution, drafted by Alderman Charles M. Ford, of the tenth ward, for presentation at the next meeting of council, was made public. Charges that the chamber of commerce and the three other organizations which acted in the filing of the petition, attempted to "foist" an unworkable time on Atlanta "were heard around the city hall.

Methodical thieves Thursday night looted the home of John Pattillo, secretary of the Pattillo Lumber company, in Druid Hills, of a large quantity of flat silverware and several pieces, one a valuable oriental floor vase. Mrs. Pattillo discovered the loss Friday morning when she went downstairs from the sleeping rooms. Money and jewelry in bedrooms on the second floor were not molested.

Telephone wires in the home, which is located at 918 Oakdale road, were discovered cut, a back door was found open, either entered by a pass key or the lock picked, but nowhere could Captain W. J. Wright, of police headquarters, find a fingerprint or a footprint. Detectives asserted that shoes probably had been removed by the robbers and gloves worn to prevent the leaving of clues.

Detectives W. J. Anderson, S. E. Woodson and L. D. Cady were immediately put on the case. It is believed that the robbers confined their operations to the downstairs portion of the home. Failure to find a clue inside or outside the premises has led to the filing of a complaint with the police department little to work on.

ICE MANUFACTURERS LOSE RATE PETITION

The Georgia public service commission Friday declined to grant a reduction in rates on industrial power sought by ice manufacturers in the state in a complaint filed by the manufacturers against the Georgia Power company.

In announcing the decision, James A. Perry, chairman of the commission, said: "The complaint of the Georgia Ice Manufacturers association sought to have the commission change the present method of applying the maximum demand or ready-to-serve charge to a monthly basis, rather than on a six months' basis, as at present. Also to have what is known as the one cent minimum rate, which applies to all wholesale customers, made not to apply to ice manufacturers, and the ice manufacturers also petitioned the commission to require the company to combine meter readings in instances where one customer operates two or more plants in the same community."

"The commission, in deciding the case, called attention to the change which had been made by the commission in the method of determining the ready-to-serve charge in its order of 1918, as prior to that time this charge was determined upon an annual basis, and was reduced by the commission in a monthly basis. The ice manufacturers stated that the peak demand for ice manufacturers was reached during the summer months, and that some instances they were required to pay for this peak during the fall and winter months, but the commission held, in its opinion, that to make an exception to the rate made against all other wholesale consumers of electricity, and also the possibility of eventually necessitating a general increase in the wholesale power rates to offset losses that would be sustained by preferring the ice manufacturers."

94 DISTILLERIES IN NORTH GEORGIA TAKEN BY AGENTS

Ninety-four distilleries were uncovered and destroyed by the federal prohibition agents in the northern district of Georgia during the month of September, according to the monthly report of Howard P. Wright, deputy administrator.

The report shows that a total of 38 vintners, 972 fermenters, 1,078 gallons of whisky, 128,176 gallons of still beer, and five automobiles fell into the hands of prohibition agents during the month. The automobiles had a value of $1,250, while destroyed property was estimated at $27,726.20. Forty-seven arrests were made, and 78 presentments recommended to the district attorney.

Perjury Facing Stern Justice, Solicitor Warns

Persons of a disposition to prevaricate, fib, tell untruths, or just plain lie had better not exercise their falsehood talents in Fulton superior court. This warning was issued Friday afternoon by the solicitor general's office on the heels of a conviction obtained in superior court for perjury.

Two negroes have been convicted for perjury within the past three months in superior court, two new indictments against other persons are in course of preparation, and other cases of alleged perjury are under investigation, Assistant Solicitor John Hudson announced.

Harry Johnson was convicted Friday on charges of perjury in the trial of John Crowder, negro, for murder on June 23, Johnson was sentenced to serve from four to ten years by Judge E. D. Thomas. Johnson testified at the murder trial that he was present at the slaying, while three other witnesses said that he was not there, it was brought out in the trial.

The other conviction for perjury within recent months was that of Boysey Williams, negro, who was sentenced in June to serve four years for alleged perjury in the murder trial of Henry Ellis. In both murder cases, the alleged perjurers testified that the murder victims had ice picks in their hands at the time of the slayings, in spite of the fact that the slayings happened during midwinter.

Perjured witnesses have hampered the prosecution in a number of recent cases, and investigations are now being made with a view to prosecution. Mr. Hudson said, "We will not tolerate lying in Fulton superior court, and in every instance where there is suspicion of perjury, we intend to investigate and prosecute as fully as possible."

SYNOPSIS

On the way to Donald Briery's house for luncheon Connie Elmore, Donald's fiancée, tells her friend, Olive Weston, that Donald stands a chance of inheriting half a million from the estate of old Harrowby, a friend of Donald's father.

Olive and Connie share a flat in London. Olive is secretly in love with Donald but sincerely pleased at Connie's good fortune in winning him.

Randle and Querk, solicitors handling the Harrowby estate, are crooked and plan to cheat Donald Briery of the fortune by having a spurious heir appear, whose claim is prior to Donald's. In the midst of the plotting Augustus Briery, Donald's father, presumed to have died when the Titanic sank, calls on Sandle. Querk suggests to Sandle that he invite Briery to Harrowby house and there with the assistance of Querk's clerk, Wade, dispose of Briery.

Connie decides to visit her old nurse, who is now caretaker of Harrowby house. Mrs. Jones is out, but Connie finds the key and has herself in to wait for her. She hears strange noises in the library and going to investigate she sees Mr. Sandle and another man kill Mr. Briery, whom she recognizes from his portrait. Rushing out of the house Connie stumbles into Mr. Querk. While telling her story, Querk pushes the bell and sends a signal to the murderers. Connie sees a policeman and calling him the three proceed to the library, and Connie asks Querk to open the secret panel in the wall where she had seen the men place the body. It is empty. Querk intimates that she imagined the scene and in a desperate aspiration Connie goes to see Olive, who at first believes her story but later thinks she is the victim of a hallucination.

Querk requests Sandle to come to the superintendent's office, and he presents his alibi, which the police officer accepts. The two lawyers proceed to Wade's office, where old man Turle and his son, the spurious heirs, await them. The old man dies just after they walk into the office, and Sandle and Querk flee by the back door.

The next morning Connie calls on Querk and meets young Jones there. She recognizes him as her old nurse's son, but does not know that he has been posing as Henry Turle, Jr. Querk later pretends that Connie imagined she saw young Jones. He tells Olive that Sandle is about to bring a criminal suit against Connie unless Olive, as her nearest friend, has her committed to a private institution which he recommends.

INSTALLMENT XLII

THE SUSPECT

On the following morning Olive Weston got up even later than usual. For one thing she was very tired and for another there was nothing much to get up for. The flat which had once been so "homey" was now desolate. It was kept clean by the charwoman, but in three short days of Connie's absence it had begun to take on the look of a bachelor's digs.

Shortly before midday she was sitting down to a "brunch" a convenient telescoping of breakfast and lunch when she heard Donald's knock on the outer door.

"Hello," he greeted her. "I thought I'd look in on my way. I'm on the motor-bike—hence the war-paint."

He loosened his leather jacket as he accepted her invitation to come in. "You'll be late," she warned him.

"They're expecting me at once, and it isn't yet twelve," he answered. "If the old tin can't do more than twenty-five miles in less than an hour, I'll sell her. Besides, I wanted to see you. You wouldn't think, to look at me, that I'm suspected of murder, would you?"

"I don't know, Don," she answered with mock seriousness. "It's just those quiet sort of men, looking as if they couldn't say no to a goose."

"Thanks! But I mean it. The police are going through my house with a tooth-comb."

"Whatever for?" she demanded.

"The local superintendent was not and decent about it," he finished. "He knows me and explained it was all a matter of red tape. He turned up before I had finished my breakfast, and was most apologetic. Offered to wait until it was convenient to me—but the fact remains that they're tapping the walls and generally doing melodramatic stunts."

Olive laughed outright.

"How perfectly splendid! I suppose you wouldn't let me write it up for the 'Record'—a rag, I mean?"

"Just as you like," she answered indifferently. "But there won't be any public interest in it, surely? You told me once the 'Record' never held the police up to ridicule—even when they made tom-fools of themselves. And I don't see how you could write it without making them look pretty green."

"Perhaps you're right," returned Olive. "Anyway, I had better not. I should have to portray you as injured innocence—and that's bad for you."

Donald made no answer.

"I didn't really come to tell you that," he said presently. "What I want to know is—shall I say anything to Connie about—well, about her cutting up rough as far as you are concerned?"

Olive picked up a piece of toast and absent-mindedly put it back in the rack.

"No, thanks," she answered thoughtfully. "Talking won't do any good. It will be time or nothing that will do it."

Donald frowned.

"I can't bear to think of you and her being at loggerheads with each other, even when it's a sort of artificial misunderstanding like this."

Olive did not answer. She was wondering whether Donald had guessed that a permanent quarrel between herself and Connie would mean a double estrangement.

"If you put your finger in the pie you'll get it burnt," said Olive. "It's a mixed metaphor. Think of it as a hot pie."

"All right, then, I'll not force the pace," said Donald. "But if Connie raises the discussion I shall not pretend to her."

"You mustn't excite her, Don. Don't have any discussion with her," warned Olive.

"There will be no question of exciting her," he retorted. "What I mean is I shall not take sides against you."

Olive looked at him thoughtfully. "You must be close on thirty, Don."

"What the blazes has that got to do with it?"

"Only that you still talk like a schoolboy. Can't you see that you will 'take sides' with her? Of course you will! If you didn't take sides with her against me or anybody else in the world, you wouldn't be worth your salt."

Donald scowled at his boots. "I never can make you out," he grunted.

"Let me tell you the other day that I should never get a really nice man to love and cherish me because I had no mystery."

Donald laughed. There was no doubt that the idea of cherishing her seemed to him a very good joke. Suddenly he sobered.

"Here we are, laughing again, with poor Connie—"

He left the sentence unfinished. "It does you good to laugh—what ever you laugh at," said Olive. "You've got to cheer her up. Go as light-heartedly as you can. Make her laugh."

Donald got up and moved towards the door.

"You're quite right," he said. "I always feel better after you've drizzled to me a bit. It's a relief to be able to say what I like."

"Keep off the murder," warned Olive. "I mean your murder. It might excite her."

"Rather! We'll laugh over it later on when she's cured. It's time I buzzed off. So long! I'll drop in this evening and tell you all about her."

He had gone. Olive cleared away the remains of her scratch meal, then sat down to write orders for the charwoman.

At three o'clock, fearing that the matron might refuse to give a report to Donald, she rang up Maenton house as usual.

"Miss Elmore is a good deal better in herself," the matron told her, "but there is no change as regards the obsession. Naturally one would hardly expect a change as yet—the trouble is very deep-rooted."

"That's funny!" said Olive. "It didn't seem to affect her while she was here—I mean, she never spoke of it. What does she do, exactly, when she's affected by it?"

"It's at night, chiefly," answered the matron. "Though, of course, the consciousness of it must be with her all day. Yesterday she spent a good deal of time in the garden. Surveillance is not close, as it is not considered necessary. She apparently gathered a number of pieces of felt from the rose-trees and some string, and this morning Nurse Flecker found under her pillow a crudely made sand bag. Of course, a sandbag is one of the items in the illusion. However there is no need for you to worry Mr. Briery with her now. The two are out together in the grounds and seem to be thoroughly enjoying themselves."

"For long Olive sat miserably considering the matron's report. Suppose Connie were not to be cured after all? Suppose the obsession were permanent? Connie's life would be blighted. And Don and she would grow old together with the zest of living gone—with nothing to sustain them but a common sorrow."

"Mooning!" Olive snapped at herself. "Whipping up trouble in order to gloat over it! The office for you at once, and plenty of it."

Cadets Bringing Strong Team To Face Yellow Jackets in First Test.

BY BEN COTHRAN.
This afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, Captain Ed Crowley, of Georgia Tech, acting in that capacity for the first time, will walk out on Grant field to meet Captain Shep Mondy, of the V. M. I. cadets. Handshakes and the flipping of a coin will follow.
The teams will line up, the referee sound his whistle, and the opening game of the 1927 season will be under way, starting the annual big parade across the Plains accompanied by the blare of brass bands and the clatter of shoe striking leather, and the staccato cadence of college yell.

And the first battle is just an exercise. The Techs are the favorite. Tech is yet an unknown quantity. Scrimmage against the scrubs, scrimmage against the varsity. The Techs are the only team to win all the scrimmage Tech has had. Y. M. I. has played two games and has victories. Good healthy victories.

And the word they're sending down from Lexington is "watch Ab Barnes." This means Mr. Barnes, it would seem, is the first to be sent down to decide propriety to break loose from any and all kinds of formations. It is said he can fling a right fair pass as fast as he can get his hands to the air on more than one occasion this afternoon.

They will use an entirely different formation this afternoon. The shift gone. The shift isn't especially adapted to the speedy play of this year's offense. The shift is made of two hands, each hand has

And there's more than one set of backs. They are all youngsters, juniors and sophomores. If they'd all more experience, we might be able to tell something more about them. But they've been well trained in the fundamentals, the stuff seems to be there. This afternoon will tell whether or not the stuff can be delivered.

The starting backfield will be Merty Smith, at quarter. Bob Parm and Bob Horne, at halves, and Randolph at full. All of them juniors with a year's varsity experi-

Bob Randolph with his 172 pounds is the heaviest one of the lot, but he's the least contrived. In high school he wreaked all kinds of havoc with opposing lines. Last year Tech's varsity he made a fair showing. Parham can make good use of his big trouble is fumbling, but with Tech's line and this year, Parham and Horne will do a major portion of the ball toting. It could behave Mr. Parham to hang on to the ball. Horne has speed, but he's a little slow and doesn't seem to have lost any of his speed. Saying as he should Mr. Horne could give you an enjoyable afternoon.

The Tech forward wall has all the makings, or something like that, of a good one. Starting with Wood, on to Drennon, Pund, Martin,

At 7:30 a. m. the Gaulets arrived Friday morning at the training camp and found a bunch of men and a few officers in the field at an hour or so, running signals and holding a light workout. The day seemed to be in good shape, and the men followed its practice with a snap.

Following the workout of V. M. J. and the Gaulets, the runner, who had been brought out by his jacket and a long session of going over the ground, was seen to be in good shape under pants, practicing kicking and passing the runner.

Coming to Erlanger.
 Minstrel lovers of long ago would probably be greatly surprised if they could see the new forty-first edition of the Al G. Field minstrel, which will be shown at the Erlanger theater for three days, starting Thursday, October 6, with a matinee Saturday. They would recognize the traditions of old-time minstrelsy, but would be astounded at the gorgeousness of the present-day production.

Music, comedy and dancing are the three principal items of a minstrel production that always remain and these three predominate in even the most elaborate stage presentations. The public wants melody and harmony, they want dancing and comedy, and lots of it, but they also like beautiful costumes and scenic settings; and in every respect it is the aim of the producers of the Al G. Field minstrel to satisfy the most particular theatergoer. Mail orders are now being received. The box office seat sale will open Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Tickets, then, may also be at M. Rich & Bros. company and Phillips & Crew Piano Co.

Keith's Georgia.
 The vaudeville show at Keith's Georgia this week, in which all the actors appear in the final act for a comedy after-piece, closes tonight. Britton's Brown Derby band, composed of 10 specialty players, singers and dancers, is one of the best band organizations in the south. The vaudeville show, starting Monday, Adolphe Menjou, starting in a new Paramount release, "A Gentleman of Paris," will have its first Atlanta showing.

Capitol.
 Today will mark the last opportunity Atlanta will have for many months at least to hear Vincent Lopez and his famous orchestra. As a special favor to Atlanta on every program today, Mr. Lopez will play only request numbers with which he has been flooded all week. Closing his Atlanta engagement, Mr. Lopez will proceed directly to New York where he will open his night club season at the newly built Casa Lopez. He says he expects a heavy Atlanta patronage.

Loew's Grand.
 Four performances of a great vaudeville bill headed by William Seabury and Irene Swor will be offered Saturday at Loew's Grand theater. The Seabury-Swor team is one of the greatest dancing teams ever seen here and are aided by Ken Whitmore "Rudolph" and a high-class musical organization. The Loew feature picture is "After Midnight," with pre-

Howard.
 "The Rough Riders," a picture that is said to boast all the thrills of "The Big Parade" and as equally entertaining, is on view for the last time today at the Howard stage. "The Rough Riders" is the story of Uncle Sam's scrap with Spain in the days of '98. It shows the gallant charge on San Juan hill, the blowing up of the Maine and the victorious return of our boys. On the stage Al and his boys do their stunts in "Patches of Joy," a show of exceptional merit.

Rialto.
 "Arizona Nights," the sterling western now playing at the Rialto theater, is one of the finest Fred Thomson has made. Quite a little different from the usual run of western pictures, it seemed to please every one that has seen it. Recently Thomson seems to have been trying to show some of the most stirring periods of American history in his pictures, and in "Arizona Nights" he delves into the days when Arizona was just a hope for huge stretch of country in the far west.

Ponce de Leon.
 Clara Bow and Esther, two of the most contrasting type of women that one could find, and yet each being a queen of beauty in their own right, are featured in "Children of Divorce" at the Ponce de Leon theater today to close an unusually successful week's program. In "Children of Divorce," the Misses Bow and Ralston have the roles of sisters who are all that the title of the film implies. It is an extremely interesting picture and one that should not be missed.

Tudor.
 "Tumbleweeds," now being shown at the Tudor, is notable in two respects, one in that it is a remarkable story of land rush in Oklahoma and the other because it brings back to the screen the world-famous and never-to-be-forgotten "Big Bill" Hart, whose two guns have blazed forth vengeance to scores of screen villains, and who gives, in this picture, a masterful characterization. He is shown as the foreman of a ranch.

Negro Given Life.
 Pleading guilty to murder, Marlow Rucker, negro, was given a life sentence Friday by Judge John D. Humphries in Fulton superior court. Rucker was charged with stabbing Ed Rembert to death in a fight on August 15 on Fort street.
